

Welcome to Family Learning

Talk4Writing

The stages of Talk4Writing

1. Imitation
2. Innovation
3. Invention

Story Maps and Text Maps

- ▶ Story maps – 1 per half term
- ▶ Fiction
- ▶ Contains pictures and key words

- ▶ Text maps- 1 per half term
- ▶ Non-fiction
- ▶ Contains pictures and key words

Starter

Imitation

Practise story map

Learning objective

- ▶ I can write from the perspective of a chicken including commas in a list.

Acting

- ▶ Everyone close your eyes. Imagine it is dark you are in a warm nest surrounded by other chickens. You hear a noise and open eye to see a fox coming your direction. How might you act?
- ▶ Act like a chicken at your space.

Modelling

- ▶ All was quiet. It was dark, cold and hazy. As the storm brewed, I huddled closely with the other fluffy chickens in our warm and cosy coop. BANG! The whistling wind blew open the crooked, ancient and creaky hatch. The lightening flashed. I saw a glimmer of red lurking behind a towering tree. Slowly, the sly fox crept into full view. I was petrified. Edging forwards, he got closer and closer and closer. I could almost touch him.

Editing/Grammar

▶ the wild storm was raging. i could hear the frightened clucks from chicken coop. quickly, I pulled on my coat hat and wellingtons. I raced as quickly as my short legs could carry me As I got towards the chicken coop I saw a sly fox creeping into the shadows